

New Ingrid Bio Page

About Me

Huntington Beach, California, continues to be my sanctuary, helping me focus on my passions. Life. Art. Beauty. Makeup. It's hard to have just one, right? From a young age, I played with paint, applied makeup, and embellished any surface I discovered.

In 2012, my career journey began with several prestigious makeup lines: Benefit Cosmetics, Clinique, Urban Decay, and Laura Mercier. I dreamed of becoming a successful makeup artist, making it a sustainable career like my much-admired Laura Mercier Coordinator, Lana, at South Coast Plaza. In 2017, my hard work paid off when I became the new Client Coordinator for Trish McEvoy Cosmetics. I managed 22 accounts throughout the greater Los Angeles region, educated clients, and trained other makeup artists. My experience includes working with well-known celebrities using higher-end brands like La Prairie.

Today, I reside in Houston, TX. I am excited to offer you a relaxing experience of enhanced natural beauty with high-quality products from a professional makeup artist for your special event. I am genuinely grateful to my clients who pushed me and, with their support, helped me become the success I am today.

Get in Touch [Button]

<https://www.ingyglam.com/photoshoot-make-up>